

1. Write the relative pronoun. There can be several options.

1. The letter _____ I received yesterday was from my Italian friend.
2. That man, _____ lives next door to my grandmother, works in the post office.
3. I love the dress _____ she was wearing at the party.
4. Have you ever gone to that cinema _____ is across the street from the school?
5. This is exactly _____ I found the keys.
6. She is the only person _____ knows where to find him.
7. This camera, _____ I bought only two months ago, has broken down twice already.
8. It has been the holiday _____ I've enjoyed most in all my life.

2. Say whether the relative pronoun can be omitted or not in the following sentences.

1. My neighbour, who is really annoying sometimes, asked me a favour.
2. That's the novel that he recommended to me.
3. That's the city which we visited last Easter.
4. He gave me a watch that didn't work.
5. That's the house where I was born.

3. Join these pairs of sentences using a relative clause. Write all the possible options.

1. There's the woman. She found my wallet.
2. I saw the film. She recommended it to me.
3. There are the policemen. They caught the burglars.
4. That's the friend. I met him last summer.
5. This is the park. I used to play here when I was little.
6. Where is the boy? He was here a minute ago.
7. That was the day. We had a party.

8. That was the company. I worked there one summer.
9. I love the car. My cousin wants to buy it.
10. She finally found her bag. It was in the kitchen.
11. They met the man. He used to live upstairs.
12. Jim didn't like the job. He had had that job for a year.
13. His mother was watching a good film. It was being shown on channel 4.

4. What are these jobs?

1. Atercicht _____
2. Dittsen _____
3. Pmerblu _____
4. Ccearnl _____
5. Bkrea _____
6. Jtsilanruo _____
7. Srolia _____
8. Baeiunnmsss _____
9. Ctsmehi _____
10. Cretenrap _____

5. Match the expressions with their corresponding definitions.

- | | |
|------------------------|---|
| 1. Fire/dismiss | a) to travel from home to work regularly |
| 2. Promote | b) look for |
| 3. Hire/employ | c) to accept someone to work with you in a company |
| 4. Attend | d) to administrate a company |
| 5. Run a firm/business | e) go to |
| 6. Commute | f) to raise to a more important position in a company |
| 7. Search | g) to tell someone to leave the job |

6. Reading

Probably the weirdest Jobs in the world

Many people may be happy with the idea of becoming teachers, astronauts, cooks or singers... But, as Robert Frost explained in 1916 with his poem The Road Not Taken, sometimes people choose to "take the road less travelled by" and "make all the difference". These are some of the weirdest jobs taken by humans:

- Worm Picker: While you sleep some people go worm-picking, especially in rainy days where worm colonies are more frequent. These worms will serve as bait for fishermen.
- Pet Food Tester: Not only does a pet food taster smell and taste animal food, they also chew it to ensure pets eat high-quality food.
- Professional Sleeper: If you are the kind of person who falls asleep at work easily this is your perfect kind of job. Not only will you have to sleep at work but you will also be paid for this.
- Shark Tank Cleaner: No further explanation is needed. How courageous!
- Fortune Cookie Writer: “Your fortune is as sweet as a cookie”, “the smart thing to do is to begin trusting your intuitions”, etc. are some of the sentences you could find inside a fortune cookie. But, have you ever thought about who writes them? Yes, there are some people who work as fortune writers professionally.
- Professional elephant dresser: If you are interested in fashion you shouldn’t miss this opportunity. Elephants are dressed in some countries in Asia in order to participate in religious festivals.

Questions:

1. What does “the road less travelled by” mean?
2. What do you think is the most dangerous job from the list?
3. What are some of the advantages and disadvantages from each job?
4. Find a synonym for the word courageous.
5. If you had to leave your current job and choose one of the weirdest jobs in the world, which one would you choose? Why?